Reflections on Advertising.

Suffering, disease, and pain seem to be the common lot of humanity. Men suffer daily of ills and ailments, which it were easy to cure, but for the want of knowing they suffer on. A medicine may be the best of its class, it may contain a power to cure hundreds of diseases, but unless it be made known, by some means or other, it might as well be plowed over in the fields, or hidden in the bowels of the earth, as far as any good it can do is concerned. People must find it out before they can use it. If the sick man don't hear of it or read of it, his sufferings must go on, for want of knowing what will cure it. It is in this way that some men have become eminent for the cure of certain diseases; they have brought into use and made public the various remedies prepared by them. Oftentimes these remedies are without value, but in many cases have real merit, and by that real merit have gained the confidence of the public.

If a medicine has real merit it will come to light. If it has none, it will soon be voted a humbug. So also with individuals.

Dr. Keyser, of this city, has for years devoted his attention to proprietary medicine prepared medicine, or whatever you may choose to term it. Does not that experience enable him to discover its value more than the man who may never have given it a thought? Does it not enable him to form a correct opinion in regard to the contents of a bottle, its value and curative power, as well as if it were a root dug from the earth, or an herb from the field, or mineral from the chemists' crucible?—certainly it does, and for our part we can see no difference. These things fail sometimes to cure, so do the best learned physicians.

Dr. Keyser has two remedies—PECTORAL SYRUP and BLOOD SEARCHER—one of which has stood the test of more than twenty years' experience; the other has renovated systems broken down and covered with sores, as intolerable and loathsome as have been ever witnessed. These cases live here in Pittsburgh, where the medicines are made. The cures are perfect. The living witnesses walk the streets. Who will say these are not facts? and if they are facts they are not worthy the attention of those who are sick? and those who are well—the former, that they may get cured; the latter that they may know how to get cured, if they should get sick?

We see a man, often, who, more than five years ago, was told to make ready, that consumption would end his career in less than two weeks. He took Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, under our advice, and he is hale and strong, and the very picture of robust health.

We meet an acquaintance, a lady, on the streets occasionally. She was a doomed woman more than four years ago; yet, in spite of the verdict, she lives on, in good health. Consumption was supposed to have nearly finished its work in her, but no—she took Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP, and got well. There are hundreds of others, but these are remarkable cases, and are referred to as they arose to our mind in writing.

The case of Mr. Boyd, of this city, is a remarkable one, as regards the wonderful power of our BLOOD SEARCHER. He is a healthy man now, and a useful member of society, and does as much labor as any one of his years. That of Miss McFarland is another wonderful cure—for seven years she could not wear shoes on her feet; her whole body was covered with ulcers. Dr. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER cured her, and she lives to prove its efficacy, at least in her case, with grateful remembrance. We could occupy a whole newspaper with the recital of cures, both by Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP and BLOOD SEARCHER, but do not care about doing so. If our readers desire to know more about the medicines, let them call at the Doctor's store, 140 Wood street, or at his consultation rooms, 120 Penn street.

They were going to Tampico.

The imports of dry goods at New York, for the year 1866, amounted to $126,222,000, which is an excess of thirty-four million dollars over 1865.

The Co-operative Iron Works, at St. Louis were destroyed by fire on Friday night. Most of the machinery was saved. Loss twenty to thirty thousand dollars.

New Orleans is likely to become one of the great grain, as well as the greatest cotton exporting ports in the Union. Efforts are making there to erect at once a grain elevator of a capacity equal to any in the west. A report on this subject will be made to the Chamber of Commerce Monday, the 7th inst. Grain can be shipped from the west, through New Orleans, to Europe twenty cents cheaper per bushel than through New York.

The rear car on the passenger train bound north, on the Sandusky, Dayton and Cincinnati Railroad, was thrown from the track on Saturday, near Tiffin, and two passengers killed and several others injured.

The overcoats contributed by Roberts for the Fenian prisoners, are detained at the Custom House in Toronto, the duty not having been paid.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—A horrible murder was perpetrated on the steamer T. L. McGill, yesterday the 4th inst., while lying at New Madrid, Missouri. An old man named A. G. Wilson, from Illinois, got aboard above, during the night previous; he took great offense at a fellow passenger named Brown, who wore a grey coat, and who some of the passengers called a rebel in consequence. Yesterday morning, while the boat was lying at the landing, Wilson loaded a shot-gun, went on the hurricane deck and levelled the gun at Brown, who was conversing with Mr. Langford, of Atlanta, Georgia; but as Wilson was in the act of firing, Brown stepped aside and Langford received the shot in his head, killing him instantly. Wilson then raved like a maniac, saying he had done God a service by killing a rebel. On the passengers attempting his arrest he tried to fire again, and several shots were fired, wounding him mortally. He had lost a son in the Federal army. Langford also served in the same army.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS ON THE IMPEACHMENT QUESTION.

Hasty Action Generally Deprecated.

RESOLUTIONS LOOKING TO IMPEACHMENT TO BE REFERRED.

FATE OF THE "BREAD AND BUTTER" REPUBLICANS.

FULL STATEMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

WASHINGTON, January 5, 1867.

THE IMPEACHMENT QUESTION CONSIDERED IN THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The Republican caucus of the House of Representatives to-night was attended by about seventy members. The proceedings were not altogether harmonious. Mr. Schofield, of Pa., was in the chair, and Mr. Donnelly, of Minnesota, Secretary.

The only subject considered was the adoption of resolutions in reference to the impeachment of the President, which were brought forward by Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, who had been selected by his colleagues in the House to present the resolutions.

The proposed action was strongly opposed by Mr. Bingham, of Ohio. The ground upon which he based his opposition was, that this Congress would not have time to conclude the trial proposed, and that, as the succeeding one was eminently radical, it would be best and safest to leave the matter to the consideration and action of the Fortieth Congress.

Mr. Stevens thought there would be ample time in this Congress to do whatever was to be done. He was not, however, in favor of hastening a matter of this kind. He was willing to afford a fair opportunity for members of Congress to give due consideration to the measure proposed. He believed that it ought to be done, but was not willing to go into it unless it could be done thoroughly and certainly.

Mr. Spaulding, of Ohio, opposed the proposed action very earnestly. He did not believe that any good would result from it.

Mr. Higby, of California, thought it the most momentous question that had been presented for the consideration of the members of this Congress, and deprecated any hasty action.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, did not think that impeachment was possible, and while he believed that the President had done many things seriously objectionable, he thought the proposition of his impeachment should be referred to one of the standing committees, in order that it should be regularly and dispassionately considered before being presented for the formal action of the House.

Messrs. Kasson, of Iowa, and Whaley, of West Virginia, were in favor of the reference.

The caucus determined that resolutions of that character should not be adopted by the House, unless sanctioned by a vote of two-thirds of the Republican members in caucus, and that in the meantime this resolution, and all others looking to the same purpose, should be referred to the Judiciary Committee of the House without debate.

MOVEMENTS OF THE ARKANSAS DELEGATION.

At the interview of the Arkansas delegation with the President on Friday evening, they were introduced to the Cabinet and Gen. Grant. The President said these gentlemen were a committee from the Legislature of Arkansas, and had called to pay their respects to them, having come to Washington for the purpose of ascertaining what could be done for the restoration of Arkansas to all her rights in the Union, and to aid in the reconciliation of the country. Mr. Hunter, United States Senator elect, stated to those present, that Arkansas had had a State Government ever since February, 1864, organized under the sanction of President Lincoln, in that portion of Arkansas within the Federal lines. After the surrender of the Confederate armies, the people with great unanimity submitted to the Federal Government, when the various counties were reorganized and the proper officers appointed. The gentlemen here present as a delegation were appointed by the Arkansas Legislature. They were prepared to answer any questions which might be asked. An effort was being made in that State by a party to overthrow the present government of Arkansas, and to obtain the passage of an enabling act by Congress to reconstruct the State. The object of the delegation was to prevent the consummation of such a measure, as those to whom he alluded were a mere handful, who say they are proscribed, but who, in fact, were never heard of before the war. These were among the views and purposes for which they had visited Washington. There never was known a period when the people were more obedient to law and order than they are at the present time. Mr. Hunter then presented to General Grant and Secretary Seward letters of introduction from General Ord, commander of the Department of Arkansas, and others.

Secretary Seward said it was not, perhaps, becoming in the members of the Cabinet to make any remarks outside of what was said by the President, but if the visitors would dine with him to-morrow evening he would say more to them than he did now.

The committee thanked him, and accepted the invitation.

After a few minutes spent in conversation, the delegation retired.

THE DELEGATION CALLS ON MR. STEVENS.

The Arkansas delegation to-day called on Hons. Thaddeus Stevens and Rice, of Maine. Mr. Stevens received them politely, but not with much cordiality. During the interview, he asked many questions of his visitors, calculated to develope their sentiments and feelings and those of the people of their State and section. He asked if they had seen his enabling act, and supplied them with a copy, advising them to consider it, as it would be the policy adopted by Congress towards the late Confederate States. "At least," he said, "it is the policy which I shall support." At the close of the interview, Mr. Stevens invited the gentlemen to call upon him again. The delegation derived but little comfort or encouragement from this interview, and it is doubtful whether their engagements will permit them to call on Mr. Stevens again before their departure.

Mr. Rice also received them very kindly and politely, and conversed very freely with them in regard to the political situation, but did not say much to encourage them.

DINNER TO THE DELEGATION AT MR. SEWARD'S.

The dinner to the delegation at Mr. Seward's, this evening, is said to have been a brilliant affair. Besides the delegation and their host, Secretary Browning, of the Interior Department, and Colonel Seward, were present. The conversation was cordial, but general. During the evening the members of the Cabinet and General Grant visited the delegation in Mr. Seward's parlors. The conversation was mostly on political subjects, but of a non-committal character. General Grant expressed a hope for a speedy restoration of political and social relations. The members of the delegation expressed themselves much encouraged, and say they find affairs more hopeful than they expected when they left home. Nearly all the delegation leave for Arkansas to-morrow.

THE FATE OF THE BREAD-AND-BUTTER BRIGADE.

It is reported that the Senate Finance Committee have taken up the Presidential appointments. A proposition was made and advocated to reject them en masse, but upon consideration this was rejected by one majority, being considered as an indication of spite, which would be unbecoming the Senate of the United States. It was finally decided that the nomination of men who formerly acted with the Republican party, and who severed their connection with the party with the presumed object of obtaining office, should be rejected. In other cases, where the appointees have served in the army or navy during the war, or were consistent Democrats and good officers, the Committee will recommend the confirmation of the appointments.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $933,628. The total receipts for the week were $7,000,000.

THE SANFORD CONOVER CASE.

To-day the exceptions taken by Hon. H. C. Gooding to the ruling of the Criminal Court in overruling the demurrer entered to the indictment of perjury against Sanford Conover in false swearing before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, is being argued before the District Supreme Court, in general term, Judges Olin, Fisher and Wylie on the bench.

CELEBRATION OF THE EIGHTH OF JANUARY.

The banquet in honor of the fifty-second anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, will take place at the National Hotel, on the evening of Tuesday next, and promises to be a grand affair. The President and Cabinet, the Ex-Presidents, Generals Grant, Sherman, Meade, Hancock, Thomas, Rawlings, Blair, and other distinguished officers have been invited.

ISSUES TO NATIONAL BANKS—CIRCULATION OF THE BANKS.

The issue of circulation to the National banks for the week ending on the 5th inst., is $18,400; amount issued to date, $300,755,351; from this should be deducted currency redeemed, including worn-out notes, to the amount of $2,145,932, leaving in actual circulation, $298,609,419.

MORE TALK ABOUT IMPEACHMENT.

Representative Newell, of New Jersey, has drawn up an articles of impeachment against President Johnson, which he will present to the House. In the debate in the House yesterday, as reported in the Globe, Mr. Newell said: "Such a catalogue of high crimes and misdemeanors was never before presented against any Executive officer, in the whole range of history, as can be presented by the present Congress against Andrew Johnson." Thus far there have been presented in the House, petitions from fifteen hundred citizens of the West, asking for the President's impeachment.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS,

(SECOND SESSION.)

WASHINGTON, January 5.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session to-day, having adjourned over on Friday until Monday.

HOUSE.

In accordance with a resolution adopted on Friday, to-day was devoted wholly to debate, as in Committee of the Whole on the President's Message.

DEBATE ON RECONSTRUCTION.

Mr. SPAULDING, of Ohio, addressed the House in vindication of his own position upon the question of reconstruction, in reply to the strictures of Mr. Stevens, made on the 20th ult. He said in the remarks which had called out the comments of Mr. Stevens, he had expressly stated that, in his judgment, the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by three-fourths of the loyal States would make it a part of the Constitution, and that the action or inaction of the rebel States in reference to the amendment would be of importance only as an evidence of their submission. But, in reference to the Constitutional Amendment, he said, his original understanding was that it was to be taken as a measure of concession in part between the loyal and the disloyal States, and when the latter should have signified their approbation of the Constitutional Amendment, and should have modelled their State governments so as to pass the ordeal of Congress, they would be admitted to representation. The canvass in the State of Ohio was conducted on the basis of the Constitutional Amendment alone. He had uniformly told the people in his District, that whenever the Southern States adopted the Constitutional Amendment, he should vote to receive their Representatives, and he had never met with a dissenting voice in his district; and he would say further, even if the reconstruction bill, introduced by Mr. Stevens, should become a law, he would still be in favor of the adoption of the Constitutional amendment. He had recently visited Petersburg, Virginia, and while there some gentlemen said they wanted the difficulties between the North and South settled. He asked them why they repudiated the Constitutional amendment; they replied, if the amendment was put in force without the aid of the Southern States, they would, of course, submit; but they could not consent to strike down their leaders for having participated with them in their common offence.

Mr. KELLY, of Pennsylvania, said he had received letters from North and South Carolina, affirming the views of the men met by Mr. Spaulding, at Petersburgh.

Mr. SPAULDING, resumed: Formerly, he said, freedom of thought and opinion had been encouraged by Congress, but of late, some had seemed to think difference of opinion on the part of any member was equivalent to desertion of the Republican party. It would take some time and trouble to get him out of the Republican ranks, where he has been ever since the inception of the party; nor would he readily abandon his well considered views. The term Radical, was frequently mis-applied; he had often been called "the damned Radical from Ohio." (Laughter.) But latterly he had been charged with being somewhat conservative. Radicalism certainly means neither despotism nor anarchy. Was Congress prepared at the bugle blast of Radicalism to run into the ground all the institutions of our popular form of Government? Were they ready, at the command of their leader, to throw into the condition of Territories or Provinces the old States that had entered into the Union at its beginning; and having done that, were they ready to go still further and, at the sound of the same bugle, impeach the executive officer of the Government? The President had undoubtedly done many wrong acts, and he did not stand up to vindicate him; but he desired to vindicate our governmental institutions against these rude assaults at the same time; and he warned the House that a resort to extreme measures would certainly produce a reaction against the dominant party.

Another test of Radicalism which had been set up was a willingness to put a prohibitory tariff upon foreign goods, and extend the paper circulation of the country without limitation. He was in favor of a reasonable tariff for the protection of home industry, but he did not favor a prohibitory tariff, nor was he prepared to denounce the officers of the government who said that we should still derive a portion of our revenue from the duty in imports, and he agreed with the Secretary of the Treasury that we should gradually feel our way to specie payments.

Mr. SPAULDING made some further remarks defending the policy of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. STEVENS replied to Mr. Spaulding, contending that the intimation that adopting an amendment to the Constitution was reconstruction was pernicious. He (Mr. Stevens) believed that three-fourths of the loyal States only were necessary to amend the Constitution, and this being true, the doctrine of Mr. Spaulding would flood Congress with unreconstructed rebels as soon as the loyal States adopted the constitutional amendment.

Mr. SPAULDING inquired of the gentleman if the amendment to the Constitution had any reference to reconstruction.

Mr. STEVENS. Not a particle, except that when we may hereafter choose to admit the Southern States, they may be controlled by the negro votes and not by rebels. At present we deny that they have any government.

Mr. SPAULDING asked whether Mr. Stevens' reconstruction did not recognize the Southern States' organization.

Mr. STEVENS said: No; Congress proposed to say to the people of those States "you have no government; we repudiate all your governments; go on and form such governments as Congress orders you to form."

Mr. SPALDING inquired if Mr. Stevens had not concurred in the majority report of the Reconstruction Committee submitting the amendment to the House; also, whether he had not voted for the admission of Tennessee.

Mr. STEVENS replied that he had voted for the admission of Tennessee without any regard to the amendment.

Mr. NIBLACK, of Indiana, inquired if Mr. Stevens voted for the admission of Tennessee, and if the preamble of that act recited the fact that Tennessee had adopted the Constitutional amendment?

Mr. STEVENS admitted that he had so voted, but not on account of the preamble, which recited many good things which Tennessee had done. He so voted because Tennessee had done everything which had been demanded by Congress.

Mr. MAYNARD inquired if any other Southern States had done all that Tennessee had done, whether Mr. Stevens would vote as he did in the case of Tennessee.

Mr. STEVENS replied that when those States form constitutions and present them, and they are found based on the principles of justice, Congress would admit them. He, however, would never vote for another State not recognizing negro suffrage. Pennsylvania and the other free States should blush for their infamous position on the negro suffrage question.

Mr. STEVENS made some further remarks, in which he said the President was an obstruction to all loyal action and an eye-sore to all loyal men.

Messrs. Bundy, Wentworth, Maynard and Kelly also spoke, and the House then adjourned.

A LETTER FROM PRESIDENT JUAREZ.

A POLICY SAID TO BE AGREED ON.

It is stated on unquestionable authority that the leaders of the majority in Congress have agreed upon a programme for the present session regarding the Southern States, and that it embraces, first, the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by three-fourths of the States represented in Congress; and second, the reorganization of the recusant States by compulsion. The adoption of the Amendment by the Legislatures of the Northern States will be completed, it is expected, by the first of February, when measures will be immediately carried through Congress looking to the governing of the South by the military arm.

REPRESENTATIVE NEWELL'S ARTICLES OF IMPEACHMENT.

First, Immediately upon entering on the duties of his office, without consultation with the law making power, legislating for the Southern States in the most autocratic manner.

Second, Assuming powers which Congress only can exercise, and laying down laws for whole sections of the country; in fact making and unmaking statues for the people of the United States.

Third, Assuming to decide who are and who are not citizens of the United States, and excluding loyal men from the right of suffrage.

Fifth, Handing over the rebel States to disloyal men and putting loyal men under their tyrannical sway.

Sixth, Elevating rebels who had fought to destroy the Union, and putting down loyal men who had fought to preserve it.

Seventh, Appointing men Governors of States whose hands were yet red with the blood of slaughtered Union citizens and soldiers.

Eighth, For letting loose rebels in New Orleans upon a legal and peaceable assembly, resulting in a massacre such as froze the heart of the North with horror and dismay, and caused every loyal Southern heart to utterly despair of the country.

Ninth, For afterwards shaking the bloody hands of these murderers in the reception room of the Presidential Mansion, while he complimented them upon the manner in which they had executed his programme for wiping out loyalty at the South.

Tenth, For denouncing this body as a usurpation.

Eleventh, Not satisfied with exciting the passions of the mob against the lawful authority of Congress, through the press he has entered the arena of stump oratory in this and other cities, and delivered harangues calculated not only to excite a breach of the peace but a revolution of the Government itself.

Twelfth, On pretence of laying the corner stone of a monument to a deceased statesman, repeating these harangues at every point on his route, the only object of which was to bring the Congress of the United States into contempt and derision.

SECURITIES HELD BY GOVERNMENT.

The Treasurer of the United States holds government securities as follows: For National Bank circulation, $340,363,150; for Depositories of public money, $38,933,950; total, $379,297,100.

Of one or two dollar United States notes, there were issued, during the week, to the United States Depository at Baltimore, $50,000; to Assistant Treasurer at Charleston, S. C., $40,000.

The disbursements of the week, for the Departments, were as follows:

War Department	$1,282,655
Navy "	174,437
Interior "	24,466
Total	$1,481,558

THE WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

The prevailing conviction among experienced lookers-on at the capital, is that the present session of Congress will be chiefly engrossed by politics, and that little will be accomplished in the way of practical legislation. The tariff, in all probability will be plentifully discussed, without any definite result. It is almost certain that nothing will be done with the currency question to disturb the existing status. A movement is to be made in Congress looking to the removal of restriction upon the rate of interest from the National banks.

SOMETHING FURTHER FROM MEXICO.

A letter received from President Juarez, dated Chihuahua, December 16th, says, he would leave that day for Durango, en route for Zacatecas. Instead of going to Monterey, he would proceed to San Luis Potosi, to be ready to enter the city of Mexico.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The Secretary of the Interior has received the report of the Government Commissioner on the ninth section of thirty-five miles of the Union Pacific Railroad. It represents all ready for service, and recommends its acceptance. President Johnson concurs, and the bonds for the same will be issued.

NEW TRIAL FOR SPANGLER ASKED.

A petition has been presented to the President, asking the benefit of a new trial for Edward Spangler, one of the assassin conspirators confined at Dry Tortugas. It sets forth that the evidence against him before the Military Commission was slight and contradictory, and the then prevailing awe and terror prevented many witnesses from testifying in his behalf.

MISSING UNION SOLDIERS.

Miss Clara Barton has just issued Roll No. 5 of the missing men of the Union armies, for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to them. This list will be sent to all newspapers for publication. The list comprises about eight hundred and fifty names of missing soldiers.

THE IMPEACHMENT RESOLUTIONS.

Notwithstanding the emphatic action of the Republican Caucus last night in reference to the introduction of resolutions looking to the impeachment of the President, many of the Republican members are urging that the resolutions shall be offered, and a vote passed upon them by the House to-morrow.

LIEUTENANT WILSON.

The body of Lieutenant Wilson arrived this morning. Senator Wilson will probably leave for Massachusetts with his remains to-morrow.

RECONSTRUCTED TEXAS.

He Would not Deem His Life Safe in their Hands.

GALVESTON, Jan. 5.—Some days since a capias was served on Major General Heintzelman by order of the Sheriff of Guadaloupe county, charging him with the commission of some offense against the laws of Texas, committed by subordinate officers, acting under his orders. Gen. H. refused to comply with the summons to appear, in the following letter to Judge Baldwin, U. S. District Attorney, to which a synopsis of his (Judge Baldwin's) reply is attached.

GALVESTON, December 26, 1866.

Judge J. D. Baldwin, U. S. District Attorney, Houston, Texas:

MY DEAR SIR—A few days since I was served with a capias from Seguin, Guadalupe county, Texas, by Judge Ireland notoriously disloyal. I replied by furnishing him the orders under which I acted, and the letter of my Adjutant General, inclosing it to the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau at Seguin. He has been indicted for theft, for acts committed by another under that order. Neither he or it went to Seguin. The present disturbed condition of the country will not admit of my leaving my post. I would not deem my life safe in the hands of the Texas authorities. I know of two individuals recently taken from the jail in Benton, Bell county, Texas, by a mob and put to death. There is a strong feeling against all officers who have been in any way instrumental in sustaining the United States, and especially those connected with the Freedmen's Bureau. The present object of the process is to annoy and oppress me for performing my duty, and, through me, to throw discredit upon the United States authorities in this State. I remain, truly yours,

J. S. P. HEINTZELMAN,
"Brevet Major General.

Judge Baldwin sustained Gen. Heintzelman, in an elaborate opinion, quoting Chief Justice Taney's opinion in the case of Ableman vs. Booth (21 Howard, page 523,) that "the State authority could never have attempted so grave an offence against the majesty of the laws of the United States as to have imprisoned one officer and attempted the imprisonment of others, while in the discharge of their sworn and imperative official duties. No State Judge or Court, after they are judicially informed that the party is imprisoned under the authority of the United States, has any right to interfere with him, or to require him to be brought before them, and if the authority of a State in the form of judicial process or otherwise should attempt to control the Marshal or other authorities, officer or agent of the United States, in any respect, in the custody of the prisoner, it would be his duty to resist, and to call to his aid any force that might be necessary to maintain the authority of the law against illegal interference."

The pith and moment of the case named is simply that an officer of the United States obeying the orders of his superior, as in this instance, cannot be interfered with by State authority. The question as to the propriety of your proceedings is inquirable into only by the power that placed you here and bade you do that thing. As well might the President of the United States be dragged from a Cabinet meeting, on a civil process, for signing the death warrants of the assassination conspirators, as for you to be carried away from your post on a civil process.

The Austin State Gazette published a complimentary letter from Gov. Throckmorton to Gen. Heintzelman, regretting his relief from the command of the Department, and congratulating him on the general satisfaction his administration has given to the people of Texas.

FROM MARYLAND.

The Radical City Government to be Set Aside by the Legislature—Released Rebels to be Permitted a Full Swing at the Ballot Box—The State Constitution to be Amended.

BALTIMORE, January 5.—The movement in the Legislature to set aside the present city government, and order a new election, and the purpose of removing all disabilities from the now disfranchised portion of the people of the State, by the passage of a general act of amnesty, and by the enactment of a less stringent registry law, gives great pleasure to the opponents of the existing city government.

A new Constitutional Convention will speedily be called, and the present Constitution materially changed.

Steamship Line Between Baltimore and Europe.

BALTIMORE, January 6.—The steamer Mexican, chartered by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which left Queenstown on December 9th, and which, it was feared, had been lost, arrived this evening safe, with a valuable cargo. (ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

At about eight o'clock on Friday evening a destructive fire occurred, by which the tack factory belonging to Messrs. Chess, Smyth & Co., in East Birmingham, was entirely destroyed. The building burned was situated on the bank of the Monongahela river, between Joseph and John streets, East Birmingham. It was a one story building, two hundred and seventy-five feet in length by eighty feet in width. The walls are of brick and the roof of sheet iron. The iron of the roof rested on a number of light rafters which were supported by a frame work of timbers erected against the inside of the walls.

The workmen in the factory quit at six o'clock, but a large number of workmen were engaged in the rolling mill immediately adjoining the factory on Joseph street. The workmen, at about eight o'clock, noticed the flames just commencing near the annealing furnace in the end of the building towards John street. The men immediately ran into the factory to extinguish the fire, but with marvelous rapidity the flames ran up the wood work against the wall and communicated to the high rafters supporting the iron roof, and almost before the men had reached the spot the fire had run along the roof the entire length of the building. Besides the rolling mill hands, a number of men who had been skating, and had come into the mill to warm, were present, and all united vigorously in endeavoring to extinguish the flames and save at least some of the belting of the establishment. Their efforts were vain, however, and not more than $600 worth of belting was saved. The alarm was given in the Borough and the Walton hose company were promptly on the ground, doing efficient service. The Relief hose carriage from this city also went over. The iron roof of the building kept the flames inside and so prevented the light of the conflagration being seen to any extent in the city, otherwise some engines would have gone over to render assistance.

The building was entirely destroyed, the foundation as well as the superstructure being ruined. It contained about fifty tack machines and some sixty nail machines, all of the most improved styles. All these machines were more or less damaged, but will, for the most part, be refitted for use, so that the loss on them will not prove so heavy as was at first supposed. The engines, boilers, shafting, &c., were also considerably damaged, but not ruined. The manufactured stock has been removed frequently to the warehouse near by, so that but little remained in the factory at the time of the fire, otherwise the loss would have been much heavier than now. As it is the loss on the building, machinery, and stock will probably reach $50,000. It is fully insured, the policies being equally divided among twelve companies. The companies insuring are mostly Pittsburgh corporations.

The rolling mill, belonging to the same firm, immediately adjoining the factory, was in imminent danger, but escaped injury, being saved by the prompt use of a small hose employed in the factory for the purpose of washing out boilers, &c. The firm has contracted for three hundred feet of hose, and it would have been on hand at the time of the fire had it not been waiting for patent couplings. Had it been available the damage done would have been materially lessened. By this unfortunate occurrence, some one hundred and thirty hands employed in the factory, are thrown out of employment.

The re-building of the establishment will immediately be placed under contract, and were it not for the unfavorable condition of the weather, the works would be in operation again in sixty days.

Mr. Chess, the principal of the firm, has been exceedingly unfortunate in the way of fire, this being the seventh time he has been injured by conflagrations. He was three times burned out while while in business as a carpenter; was twice burned out of his present business before the organization of the existing firm, and once before, since the present firm has existed, has suffered severely from fire.

This tack factory was the only one in the State, and was a very complete as well extensive one, comprising machines for the manufacture of the largest spikes and the smallest tacks.

Shall We Have a Financial Crisis?

It has been announced that the leading glass factories and rolling mills will suspend operations within a few days, and many of our citizens are inclined to believe that a panic, or in other words "hard times" will follow. We cannot see why this temporary suspension will prove disastrous to other branches of trade. True, a great many persons are employed at these great works; but, as a general thing, they are an intelligent class of workmen, who have had wisdom enough to economize their earnings received while such handsome remuneration was paid for their labor, and a few months idleness will not embarrass them to any great extent. The suspension of the mills and factories will be of short duration, and may not in the slightest degree affect the city retail trade. The great majority of mechanics in the city have steady employment and are making living wages, while our retail dealers do not complain of any unusual "letting down" of their business. Dull times always intervenes between the holiday season and the opening of spring trade, and thus far business has been no worse than experienced at corresponding seasons heretofore. Goods are declining, at least the markets are unsettled, but all of our merchants have prudently avoided carrying over stocks so heavy as to weigh them down in a financial crisis, and few, if any, will suffer from falling markets. We do not anticipate a business panic in the near future and trust our readers may not become needlessly alarmed over the prospect of hard times. With the exception of the exorbitant rents demanded by unprincipled landlords there is as yet nothing transpired to help on a panic. Looking on the bright side of things, we need not meet trouble half ways, nor go abroad to bring it to our doors. Economy should be carefully studied by everybody, and outlays should be made with an eye to a worse day ahead, so that when it does come all will be able to stand the shock.

Probably Fatal Accident.

On Saturday forenoon at about eleven o'clock, Mr. Samuel Hunter, a well-known gentleman of this city, met with an accident which will probably result fatally. Mr. Hunter is proprietor of several teams and wagons employed in hauling metal for different establishments. At the time mentioned he was riding with the driver on a four-horse metal wagon, heavily laden with pig metal. While passing up Liberty street near the Union Depot, Mr. Hunter attempted to jump from the wagon while it was still in motion. He fell partially under the wagon, and the hind wheel passed over his left arm near the shoulder, crushing it in the most horrible manner. The left leg was also very badly bruised, and severe internal injuries were sustained. The unfortunate man was taken up and carried to his home on Webster street, and Drs. Dickson and Hamilton called to attend him. No hope for his recovery is entertained. Mr. Hunter is about sixty-eight years of age, and is a very estimable gentleman. He has not spoken since very shortly after the accident.

The Fires of the Week.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Samuel T. Paisley, Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph in this city, we have been permitted to copy, from the office register, the following statement of the fires of last week:

Jan. 1st. Alarm sounded from box No. 52, at 3:45 A. M. Fire on Pennsylvania avenue on the premises of H. Stamm. Loss $700. No insurance. Incendiary fire. Water exceedingly scarce in the locality.

Jan. 3d. Alarm from box No. 64, at 6:40, P. M. Fire on Butler street, Ninth ward. Wooden ware factory of White, Berger & Co. Loss $10,500. Insurance $7,000. May have been incendiary. Water very scarce. The above loss is smaller than the first estimate, as much of the machinery supposed to be ruined can be rendered fit for use. The loss does not include that of the Keystone Bridge Company.

Grand Oratorio.—Our readers have a rare musical treat in store for them to-morrow evening. The grand oratorio of "The Creation," Haydn, will be rendered at the Academy of Music by the Pittsburgh Choral Union. Few of our readers are unacquainted with the musical attainments of the ladies and gentlemen belonging to the Choral Union, and it seems unnecessary for us to invite the attendance of those who delight in grand and soul-inspiring music. Tickets can be produced at the well-known music store of C. C. Mellor, 81 Wood street, at nine o'clock this morning.

The Wizard of the World.—Prof. Barto, the greatest living wizard of the world, who has exhibited his wonderful feats of legerdemain for hundreds of consecutive nights in the great cities of Europe, will give four of his wonderful entertainments at Masonic Hall this week, commencing Wednesday next. He is immense. His tricks are all novel, fresh and highly entertaining, and beyond any doubt he will be visited by thousands during his stay in this city.

A Female Coat Thief.—On Saturday a woman brought a coat worth about $45 to Mr. Hazen, living on Pennsylvania avenue, beyond the Relief Engine House, and offered to sell it to him for $4, knowing that the coat must have been stolen. Mr. H. took it from her and delivered it up to Chief Hague, in whose possession it now is. The woman is known and will probably be arrested soon.

Paine & Co's Argentine.—For instantly plating all articles of copper, brass or German silver, with pure silver, where worn off, and for cleansing and polishing silver or silver-plated ware. Warranted to contain no quicksilver or acid, or any injurious article. For sale by J. Sample, Allegheny, and all druggists. del8:tf

Fire Engine.—Mansfield, Ohio, has a new steam fire engine, at the cost of $5,500, and Steubenville hasn't.

Fatal Accident.—At about four o'clock on Saturday afternoon a young lad named Patrick Nolan was almost instantly killed on the south side of the Monongahela river, near the borough of Temperanceville. Young Nolan was coasting down the hill with his knees on his sled, one of the runners of which struck some obstacle, throwing him head-foremost over the hillside and on to the track of the Pan Handle Railroad, his head striking with such violence as to produce a fracture of the skull. He survived but a few moments after the accident.

Still Living.—Henry Streng, the unfortunate man who was shot on Thursday night by Jacob Baltzell, in Allegheny, was still living last evening, though in a very low and sinking condition. It is hardly probable that he will live through to-day. The Jews of the community, to which sect Mr. Streng belongs, are very much roused about the affair.

Released.—James McBride, prosecutor in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Mary Leonard, in an assault and battere case in which Mary was acquitted, was ordered by the Court to pay the costs of the case. He was unable to do so and was committed to jail. On Saturday, however, he raised the money and was released.

The Allegheny City Wharf.—The work of grading the wharf on the Allegheny river, between Anderson street and the Railroad bridge, Allegheny City, is being pushed forward with great rapidity. One hundred hands are employed. It is to be completed before the time for the Spring freshets. The contract is taken at $14,000.

Attempted Rape.—Michael McNamara was before Mayor McCarthy Saturday morning, charged with committing an assault upon Mary Dwyer, with intent to commit rape. The charge was preferred by Mary Dwyer. McNamara was committed to jail for a further hearing on the 12th inst., in default of $5,000 bail.

A Sad Return.—A former resident of Allegheny city, Mr. George Varry, returned home last week, after an absence of sixteen years, coming home for the purpose of spending two holidays with his mother. As he reached the door of his mother's residence her corpse was being carried out for burial.

SENATORIAL.

On Saturday morning the Philadelphia Press announced the virtual withdrawal of Governor CURTIN from the Senatorial contest. The Bulletin of Saturday afternoon contradicted this announcement by authority. It may, therefore, be taken for granted, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, that Governor CURTIN's name is in the hands of his friends, and will not be withdrawn.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

We are very glad to see the young men of these cities associating themselves together for the purpose of mutual improvement, and for the still higher and holier purpose of drawing other young men, who have no pleasant homes of their own, from paths of temptation and danger, into their own safer and happier social circle.

The design and aim of the Young Men's Christian Association is to throw around the social life of the virtuous and the good all the charms that are supposed to cluster around that life which passes current for one of pleasure. A pleasant and attractive building is to be procured, and converted into a reading room, a social hall, and a room for free lectures and religious services. Here all young men are to be invited to come at any time, and feel at home—a place where they may read if so inclined, or converse, or debate. Here they will be introduced one to another, and find congenial companionship. It will be a place where their evenings can be spent pleasantly and profitably, without pecuniary expense, and without moral danger—a place where the beautiful amenities of life may be cultivated. Here characters will be made, not ruined; good habits formed and strengthened; peace of conscience secured; and all the better impulses of man's nature called forth and confirmed. And, better than all, it will be a place where young men may be brought to drink of those springs of joy, of which, if a man drink, he shall never thirst.

Such an institution will set in motion a thousand beneficent activities throughout the entire community. A vast amount of talent is lost to the world, because there is no opportunity for its development. Many a generous heart and active brain runs to waste through the mere lack of direction. Of thousands it might be asked, "Why stand ye all the day idle?" so far as the higher and better activities of their nature are concerned; and the answer might be made with truth, "Because no man hath hired us." But in such an association as this, every man may find something good to do, even though it were in nothing higher than in the play of a genial and cheerful spirit, and in being a pleasant and amusing companion.

There is profit in this thing in a business point of view; for young men will come out of such a place as this, and from such associations and amusements as he will find there, far better fitted for the duties of their calling, whatever they may be, than if they had been indulging in more exciting scenes, or enduring the weary, moping indolence of their boarding houses. Although it can yield no direct cent per cent. dividends, it is, nevertheless, a most excellent investment. If the motives which prompt an investment in it rise higher than earth, so will the profits; but the profits will be felt in the places of business, as well as in an approving conscience, and in a treasure where moth and rust do not corrupt.

We fervently hope that a generous response will be made to this call. It will require a considerable amount of money, but still more labor, to make it what it ought to be. Some can contribute in one kind, some in the other, some in both.

All the great cities of the Union are moving in similar enterprises. In New York upwards of two hundred thousand dollars have been subscribed towards the erection of a building for this purpose. In Chicago one hundred and seventy thousand dollars have been contributed for a like object. Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other cities, are contributing largely and liberally to the same object.

This saving and salutary work has come to be a necessity. As evil influences are active, and becoming more and more so, it is essential that good influences shall be made equally active and equally attractive. It is time that the followers of HIM who came to seek and save the lost, to bless the world and make it happy, should put on their "beautiful garments," and let their light shine before men.

THE INCREASE OF INSANITY.

The inquiry is constantly made, Has not Insanity increased very much within the last few years? A proper and full answer to that involves a consideration of a variety of causes, the full examination of which would lead into a long dissertation, and we can here consider only a few points.

Insanity is unquestionably a disease attendant on a high degree of civilization, or what we are pleased to consider such (more properly speaking on that peculiar state of society arising from the possession of considerable wealth and its accompanying luxuries); because in such a state everything which can tend to produce disordered health, is found in greater force and frequency than in a more natural style of living. The constant excitement and high strain of business and pleasure, the eager striving after greater wealth or greater power, the modes of living and the entirely artificial state of society so common in certain classes in the large cities, tend to bring about a diseased condition of the nervous system and an unhealthy tone of mind, which certainly strongly favor mental disorders. But we must not judge too hastily even here. Many who devote their whole time to a continuous, eager pursuit of pleasure fall victims to a variety of diseases, which rapidly shorten their career before the mind has been disturbed.

Men engaged in active business, devoting all their time to their duties with a passionate zeal, giving themselves little rest and recreation, and grudging even the time given to sleep as a loss, soon find themselves in a feeble, nervous condition, totally incapacitating them from duties, and they are compelled to yield to the stern demand for rest by intimations which they cannot neglect. Many receive the first intimation in a stroke of apoplexy, or some kindred affliction, which compels a cessation of the exhausting duties; while others feel a lassitude and inability to devote themselves, as they formerly did, to their work which they vainly strive to relieve by the use of stimulants, which only add fuel to the fire, and keep up the system artificially, only to make the fall greater when it comes, as soon it must.

This overwork, this constant strain of the mental powers, without diversity of employments or relaxation, must injuriously affect the mind sooner or later. No human organization is so constituted as to bear up against the assaults which are openly and insidiously made upon it day after day. The greater the strain on a rope the sooner it will break, the greater the pressure on a steam boiler, the greater the risk of an explosion; but still men hold on to their course, promising at a given time in the future, when they shall have obtained certain desired objects, to give themselves that rest so needful for their mental and bodily powers. Too often that time is never reached, the strain having broken the health and the man is laid by with some incurable nervous disease, or some other physical disorder which makes him an invalid during the remainder of his days.

The conditions, thus hinted at, has an undoubted influence in the production of cases of insanity, and it cannot be denied that more have arisen from these causes than in former days, when men moved along more leizurely and gave themselves more time and opportunity for that relaxation which every day's work required.

The restless over-reaching spirit of speculation, which leads men to do and to dare so much, is also peculiarly favorable to the production of insanity and other nervous disorders, by its excitements and anxieties its losses and consequent depressions and disappointments. But with all these, which have existed probably to as great an extent in every age and in every country, the increase is more apparent than real. There seems to be periods when insanity is more rife than at others, but in a term of years, say twenty, it is much to be doubted whether there will be a greater number of instances of insanity than in an equal period at another date, the state of the population and its increase being considered.

We see or hear or know more of insanity than we did partly on the ground, that no such great efforts are now made to conceal it as formerly, when insanity was looked upon as a disgrace, instead of a disease to be treated like other diseases; but we fail at the same time to take into account the constant increase of the population, which is going on around us; and we also overlook the fact that the increased confidence in the management of hospitals for the Insane, has had the effect of bringing out those who would otherwise be concealed from public view, or even from the knowledge of their neighbors.

Another cause may be the more ready communication between one section and another, and the more free intercourse maintained by constant traveling from one district to another, which gives us a more complete knowledge of our neighbors than we before possessed, and puts us in a position to learn many things of which we were before entirely ignorant. Probably we may also add to this the greater publicity given by the press to the many cases of insanity occurring in different sections and the frequent reference to the subject drawn from the reports of the various institutions for the insane in the country. To these causes for the apparent increase may be added the great immigration from foreign countries, bringing so many to new and untried scenes, with all the trials, disappointments, losses and consequent depressions incident to breaking up all home scenes and modes of life and labor, and the struggle in a new country among strangers and new customs, and the difficulties necessarily attendant on establishing a home or securing a livelihood.

It is exceedingly difficult to arrive at a definite statement of the number of insane in any community, from the great unwillingness of many persons to give any information in regard to relatives and friends, and all the statements given can only be looked upon as approximations to the truth.

Large towns and cities seem to have a ceretripetal influence in accommodating cases of insanity as well as of increasing the causes.

Many questions of interest connected with this subject we may consider at another time, but we will now only give what may be looked upon as a reasonable method of ascertaining the number of insane in Pennsylvania. Taking the population at three millions, (and it will rather exceed than fall below that,) we may estimate that one out of every eight hundred of that population will become insane in the course of any given year. Add to these the number of those who became insane in former years, and who were not restored, and it will be feared that the number now in the State will much exceed what those who have given little attention to the matter, would imagine.

We hope to be able to return to this investigation at another time. M. D.

THE Chicago Board of Trade passed a resolution last week to adopt the cental method of buying and selling grain after March 1st. It is probable that the old measure of bushels will be entirely abandoned, by the first of April, in the grain markets of the country.

—William Jones, of Liberty county, Ga., has made good progress in the tea culture. After several unsuccessful attempts, in March, 1860, he became the possessor of fifty nourishing young plants. These were set out in a loose sandy soil, in rows five feet apart; they grew finely for two years, when the first leaves were picked, and from that time to the present the yield has been from five to six pounds yearly.

—The purchase of Lower California has now been formally confirmed by the Juarez government and the title is settled beyond reasonable doubt. It is the largest purchase by private persons in modern times. It covers 46,000 square miles, extending from gulf to ocean, between the parallels of 24 degrees and 20 minutes and 30 degrees of north latitude.

UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP.

Editors Pittsburgh Gazette: The ingratitude, fickleness and impolicy of the citizens of a republic, and their injustice to their greatest benefactors are matters of history. The people seek for some "new thing" when the old and tried is far better. It is a maxim of friendship never to exchange an old friend for a new one; and in business to retain the faithful and upright and capable agent or overseer rather than seek a new and untried man. Aristides was banished, one who voted against him assigning as a reason for his vote that he was tired of hearing him called "the just." Socrates suffered death as a penalty for his good teachings. Themistocles was banished. People become envious of the successful, and effect changes in their rulers, even to their own injury. Hence one of the objections, and a strong one, to a republican form of government. Able and experienced and faithful men are often compelled to give place to the young and new men. All the knowledge acquired by an intimate and thorough acquaintance with public men and public affairs is sacrificed. Others must commence and go through the same ordeal as they have. These new men may be faithful, they may not. They may be capable or otherwise. Even under the most favorable circumstances, years must be lost to their constituents and the country before they acquire a knowledge of their business and the confidence of their associates. If traitorous, and unfaithful, like a Cowan or a Doolittle, the sooner they give place to the true and loyal the better. That such can be removed is one of the bright features of our system. In a Legislator not literary acquirements or intellectual power merely are desirable. Sound judgment and experience are essential to confidence and influence. Often inferior men, in consequence of their great experience and consequent knowledge of public affairs, have far more influence than those intellectually and morally far superior. Bad legislation is the result. The weak triumph over the powerful; the poor cause over the good. The South has understood this, and the influence of her public men has arisen from their having been retained so long in public life. Jas. K. Polk was not a man of unusual natural ability or extensive acquirements, any farther than he had gained knowledge by his experience in public life. I speak from an intimate knowledge of the man as seen at his own home. Rotation in office is no more to be sought in public men, unless they are dishonest or incapable, than rotation in other departments of service. A manufacturer does not consider it desirable to dismiss a well tried, capable and faithful agent who has acquired a thorough knowledge of his business. Neither do any of us dismiss the skilled and practiced physician for a young practitioner. We choose those who have already acquired a knowledge of their business, and should consider ourselves raw and foolish to do otherwise. We prefer to pay the able and tried much more than to supply others for less. There is no comparison in their worth. The administration of the affairs of this great republic are as important as the business of an individual was the safety and health of a family. There are millions of families whose interests and lives are at issue. Our national affairs may be well or badly managed. We may preserve peace, or be plunged into war. We may adopt a policy which may secure prosperity or may involve us in commercial ruin. When there are so many faithless, retain the faithful.

We have been led to these thoughts by two circumstances. The first is a reassurance from the best authorities of the position held by our own Representative, Hon. J. K. Moorhead, and his influence in committees and in the different departments in Washington. His sound judgment, his business experience and talent, and his acquaintance with national affairs from his many years of service, as well as his incorruptibility, have given him this well deserved position. No man can better represent his constituency, and to all the great questions of the day he will be true. He is the right man in the right place. Keep him there.

A second consideration is that as we are about to elect a successor to one who has for six years misrepresented Pennsylvania, and been unfaithful to all the great interests of the country, we can do no better, and it would be no more than a simple act of justice to a faithful public servant who has stood by the right, through good and evil report, than to elect that noble old hero, Thaddeus Stevens. To him it can well be said, "go up higher."

RADICAL.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentery, and general debility of the whole system, try but a single bottle? We will never urge you again if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself, and the beneficial result, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.—Winter, in this climate, is a trying season. Its unsteady temperature greatly aggravates dyspepsia, and acts very unfavorably upon that sensitive organ, the liver. The alternation of frost and thaw keeps the pores of the body continually opening and contracting, and the result is a condition of the system favorable to the action of the atmospheric virus which produces intermittent fevers. Hence a PROTECTIVE MEDICINE like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially needed in the winter months. The effect of this great CONSTITUTIONAL INVIGORANT, in rendering even the feeblest frame impervious to all malarious influence, is a grand fact demonstrated by the uniform experience of a quarter of a century. As a stomachic, an anti-bilious medicine, and a preventive and cure of Fever and Ague, it is the ONE THING NEEDFUL, which none who value the preservation of health can afford to do without.

THE SICK, WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR,

regret that they did not take the right antidote at the right time. Thousands who are now suffering from the early twinges of liver complaint and dyspepsia, will be prostrate on sick-beds a month hence, if they do not arrest the mischief at once. Nothing is more easy. A course of the purest and best vegetable tonic and alterative known in modern pharmacy—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—will restore the digestive organs to their full vigor, and bring the disordered liver into a condition of perfect health, as certainly as sunshine dissipates the morning vapors. Fever and Ague, too, is at once broken up by this powerful antidote to all miasmatic diseases. Strengthen the system with the BITTERS, and you may defy all the complaints which prevail at this inclement season. ja4

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

Shooting Affair in Meadville.

The following is from the Meadville Republican of Saturday: Quite an excitement was stirred up yesterday by the news of an attempt by a young lady to kill her former lover. As near as we can learn, the facts are as follows: A young lady from Rochester, New York, while visiting friends in Hayfield township a couple of years ago, smote the heart of a second cousin, and they became very ardent lovers—too ardent, as the sequel shows, for their own good. She charges that under the promise of marriage he seduced her, but a magistrate was not called in at the proper time, and since then the magistrates have had to be frequently consulted. About nine months ago the lady became the mother of a bouncing boy. In vain she plead with her lover to keep his promise and marry her. The courts were finally resorted to, but without any satisfactory result. On Thursday evening last in accordance with, as she alleges, a prior understanding, the woman came to town, procured a sleigh and took the child to the home of its father. She stated her errand and presented him the child. He declined and requested her to send it to the poor-house. This roused her woman's pride and fury, and smarting under her injuries and his insulting proposition, she produced a revolver and fired at him three times, but she was not a good shot and he was uninjured. Like a brave booby he rushed into the house to get a gun to shoot her, but in this movement he was prevented by his father. His mother, however, took the child, and the indignant mother returned to town. In a short time the young man appeared before Justice Davis and made a complaint against the woman for an attempt upon his life. She was arrested and committed until Friday morning, when, the complainant not appearing, she was discharged.

Both parties belong to respectable families. The young man at the time he became a father was in his minority, but is over twenty-one. The lady is about four years older. It was a case of mutual affection at first, and of mutual recrimination afterwards. She charges him with seduction, and he alleges she seduced him. What the upshot of the affair may yet be is hard to predict, but a great many think that it is rather unfortunate that the woman did not shoot straighter.

A Heartless Landlord.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Saturday says: One evening during the present week a small boy called at the house of one of the citizens of the Seventeenth ward, and begged the privilege of staying all night. At first the lady of the house hesitated, fearing he might be the tool of some burglar; but on hearing his frank though almost incredulous story, she permitted him to remain till her husband came home, when he was given a supper and a bed. He gave his name as Joseph Wright; said his father was killed in the battle of Lookout Mountain; that his mother had rented a small house and lot of ground back of Newport, that after going to bed one night a week ago, as well as usual, he found her dead the next morning; that the owner of the house asked how much money he had, and took from him the only dollar he had, buried his mother and sold the household goods to pay the expenses, then told the boy he must take care of himself. The little fellow at once left the place crossing to this side of the river, bringing with him a single memorial of his childhood home—a boy's sled, lettered as a tribute to his father's patriotism, "Lookout." His affections were on it as his only comfort; and when the Lieutenant of Police, Mr. Weeks, obtained permission for him to enter the Children's Home, and took him to that useful institution, Joseph took his sled along with him. May some kind family, destitute of boys, look after him and give him a permanent home.

A Desperate Fellow.

The Easton Free Press says: On Sunday, officers Keiter and Johnson, with deputies from South Easton, proceeded to search several houses in that place, for the purpose of arresting a man named Charles Wright, upon a warrant issued by Justice Chamberlain. Not finding him in South Easton, they proceeded to the White Bridge, above Glendon, to search the house of Mr. Tinner. The police at once surrounded the house, and as one of the Deputies entered at the back door, Wright sprang from the front door, with a Remington revolver in one hand and a large knife in the other, and attempted to escape. He ran about one hundred yards, when officer Johnson came up with him and pinioned his arms from behind. Then commenced a severe struggle for the weapons, and after a desperate fight, Johnson, with his assistants, finally succeeded in disarming him. He was then brought to Easton and lodged in jail. The house at which the arrest was made, another in South Easton, and a place somewhere in New Jersey, are supposed to be the depots for stolen goods, where the gang, of which Wright is supposed to be one, deposit their spoils. It is said that rewards are offered in New Jersey for the arrest of Wright. He is said to be a horse thief. The robbery of farmer Nolf, and others, of Williams township, are laid to Wright's charge.

Another Victim.

A few days ago, a gentleman residing in Pottstown, was neatly done out $240 by an oily tongued friend. The two got into a conversation at the railroad depot, and afterwards walked down Market street, where the new found friend said he had business. During the walk he pretended to have a bill to pay, at a store, went in and came out immediately and asked the Pottstowner to change a $500 bill, which the merchant, he said, could not change. This our friend could not do, so the sharper asked him to loan him $240, stating that he would pay the bill, and they would then go and get the note changed, when he would repay him. The money was paid over and the chap went into the store but failed to return according to promise. He had, of course, slipped out of a back door and made off, leaving the accommodating Pottstowner to whistle for his money.

An Insulting Robber.

A week ago five farmers were robbed on their way home from market, on the turnpike near Mount Carmel, by three bold and daring robbers. This was done in less than one hours' time, one after another in succession as they came along. The following are the names of the men who were robbed, and the amount of money taken from each one: Peter Yocum, $60; Simon Vought, $55; J. Hummer, $35; David Hass, $12; Washington Swank, $6.

One of the robbers gave Swank a violent stroke on his head with a revolver, and told him never to let him catch him on the road again with so little amount of money.

Oil in Pittsburgh.

The Miners' and Manufacturers' Journal has the following concerning the oil trade in the city during the past year:

"The trade of the year has been immense in spite of the very low prices, and in the latter part of the year a lessened demand. The price of crude oils during the month of January averaged about twenty cents per gallon. During December the average has been about nine and a half cents, a falling off of over one-half. The receipts at this point, by river and rail, for the year 1866, will be about 1,750,000 barrels, against 650,000 barrels in 1865—an increase of 1,100,000.

The Urbana Citizen states that the Burglar Barry, whose arrival at the Penitentiary last Friday we noticed at the time, is a desperate character. During his stay in the Champaign County Jail he made three efforts to escape, breaking off his manacles each time, and twice assaulting the Jailor. He broke his handcuffs off on Friday morning, as a farewell notice of his contempt for jail confinement. He evidently feels more at home now.

Land Slide.—The Beaver (Pennsylvania) Argus says: The Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad have for several months past been engaged in digging a deep cut, for the purpose of straightening their road north of Wallace's Run, in Beaver county. They had carried their project well nigh forward to completion, when a land slide of about two acres overtook them last week, burying the cut in some places to the depth of forty feet.

Accident in Meadville.—The Meadville Republican says:—We regret to learn that Rev. Mr. Craighead and his wife were thrown from a sleigh yesterday and Mrs. Craighead had her arm broken. She received prompt surgical attendance and is doing as well as can be expected. Mr. Craighead was slightly bruised but sustained no serious injured. The accident was caused by the bolt pin dropping out of the side of the shaft.

School Ma'am Whipped.—The Erie Dispatch says that a talented lady, named Haskins, who has been teaching school in the neighborhood of Lake Pleasant, recently undertook to correct a pupil, a little girl, when she was set upon by an elder sister of the pupil and cruelly beaten. She was thrown down, her head jammed upon the floor, and the skull broken, so that she is now a maniac beyond the hope of recovery.

Who Were They?—A couple of fellows, who represented themselves as agents of a Pittsburgh house, recently swindled a number of persons at Kingsville, Jefferson county, Ohio, by buying all the feathers they could obtain, at a low price, on the promise that they would return within a specified time and sell new ones at the same rates. The time came around, but, of course, the "agents" did not.

Injured by a Train.—On Saturday last, Mr. George Bates, of Brokenstraw, Warren county, was driving his team on the road leading from Youngsville to Pittsfield, and when crossing the railroad track the Warren accommodation train happening along that way, tipped over the sleigh load of household furniture, killed one of the horses, and badly, though not dangerously, injured Mr. Bates.

Killed.—The Easton Free Press say: Yesterday, while the Lehigh Valley train, due here at 1 P. M., was coming East, a short distance above Mauch Chunk, the hat of a young man standing in the door of the baggage car, was blown off; although the train was running at a rapid rate of speed, he immediately jumped off after his hat, and in his descent struck a telegraph pole, and was instantly killed.

Burned to Death.—Last week near Centralia, says the Miner's Journal, a Mr. Jennings, his wife, an infant and a young daughter were burned by the explosion of a coal oil can, the last so seriously that she died. The accident was caused by Mr. Jennings pouring oil on a slow fire to make it burn. Fire was communicated to the can, causing the explosion as stated.

Pennsylvanian Killed.—Mr. William Adams, of Conneautville, Crawford county, was killed by being run over by the cars at Owattona, Minnesota, on New Year's day. He had been absent from his home but a week. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his untimely fate. Mr. Adams was highly respected by a large circle of acquaintances.

Permanent.—The Meadville Soldiers' and Sailors' League have decided to make their organization a permanent one. There had been talk of disbanding until the next political campaign.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Several days ago a communication signed "H," appeared in our columns, which calls forth the following reply from one who signs himself "Director," but fails to comply with our imperative rule of supplying bona fide name of author. However, as the matter is of interest to a large class who felt that they were to be ignored in the organization of the Christian Association, we publish the reply in full:

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Your paper of Thursday morning last, contained a letter from "H," of Lawrenceville, concerning the meeting held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the First Presbyterian Church, on the Sabbath evening previous. The spirit of the author of that letter is evidently friendly to the interests of the Association, and his views upon what ought to be the nature of such an organization, and the methods of accomplishing its ends, are, in the main, correct. Moreover they are as far as laid before the public in his letters, in conformity with the plans and purposes of the Association, recently organized, with the exception of some minor and unimportant details. And if "H" will make himself known to any member of the Board of Directors of the Association, he will be given a prominent position in the execution of those plans. The assertion is warranted that the Board need just such men as "H" has shown himself to be, by the interest which he has manifested in the movement, in order to carry into execution the objects of the Association. There is work for all. The difficulty hitherto has been to find persons willing to do the work. Come forward then, "H," and help to mould the Association into such as you conceive it ought to be.

It was with pain and regret that your correspondent discovered that one so friendly as "H" misapprehended the remarks of one of the speakers on the occasion of the public meeting, and the more, that the letter was likely to do much injury to the cause which we alike hold dear.

Suffice it to say that it never has been, nor is it, the intention of the Board of Directors, or the Association, to confine its work to any one class of young men. All alike are invited to become members and partake of any benefits that may flow from a connection with the Association. All alike, whether members or not, will be invited to visit the rooms of the Association and make themselves perfectly at home there. It is possible that the misapprehension of "H" arose from the fact that in illustrating what benefits might result from such an organization, the examples were all taken from one class of young men. But it must be borne in mind that they were only examples, and were intended by no means to limit the sphere of the Association to that class. Examples might have been taken from other classes. They were not. But that fact scarcely warrants the conclusion to which "H" arrived.

It is hoped that these statements, necessarily brief, will satisfy the minds of any persons who have the same misapprehensions with "H." In conclusion, it may be said that work, much work, is to be done before the Association will be of much practical benefit to any class, and persons must be found willing to do the work. If therefore "H" and all like him will make themselves known to any member of the Board of Directors, they can do much towards making the Association useful in the salvation of the souls of all classes of men, with the blessings of God upon its efforts.

On motion, adjourned.

Meadville Improvements.—A summary of our report of Improvements in Meadville for 1866 shows that 182 new houses have been built, 12 have been enlarged and about 20 repaired. The sum of money invested in these improvements amounts to over $650,000.

HARDICK'S
Patent Double-Acting
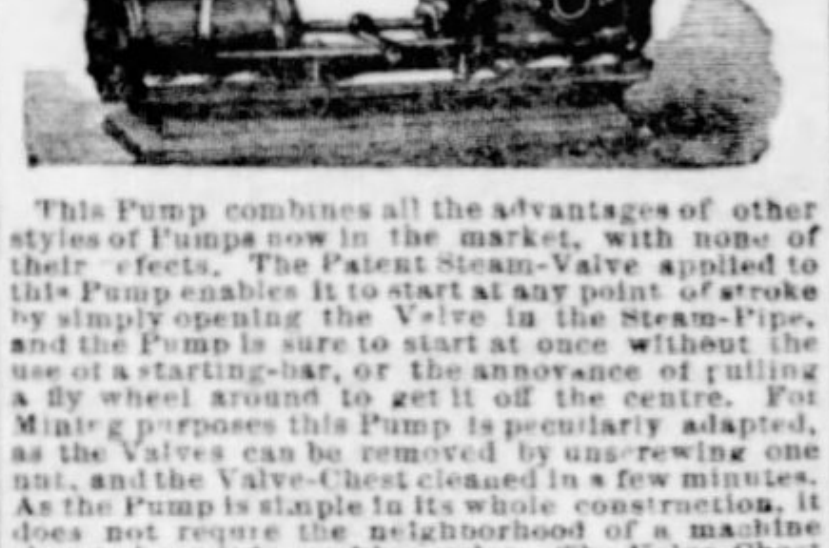
FOR PUMPING
WATER, CRUDE AND REFINED OIL



This Pump combines all the advantages of other styles of Pumps now in the market, with none of their defects. The Patent Steam-Valve applied to this Pump enables it to start at any point of stroke by simply opening the Valve in the Steam-Pipe, and the Pump is sure to start at once without the use of a starting-bar, or the annoyance of pulling a fly wheel around to get it off the centre. For Mining purposes this Pump is peculiarly adapted, as the Valves can be removed by unscrewing one nut, and the Valve-Chest cleaned in a few minutes. As the Pump is simple in its whole construction, it does not require the neighborhood of a machine shop to keep it in working order. The Valve-Chest and Valves are made of brass or composition, and can be easily repaired or replaced when worn out. Any carpenter can make, in a few minutes, of some heavy wood, a set of Valves for this Pump, if the original ones should give out. As a Boiler Feeder, it has no superior, as it can be made to run at any speed, either slow or fast, to suit the work it has to perform. The undersigned respectfully solicit the attention of their numerous customers and the public in general to the merits of this Pump, and desire those wishing such an article to call on Amusements.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—To-day Manager Henderson enters into the management of this popular, first class theatre, and will use all of his endeavors to merit a continuance of the great popularity which was awarded it during the brief managerial career of Mr. Hess. Mr. Henderson possesses all the enterprise and ability to conduct the Opera House in a first class manner, and we feel safe in promising that the theatre-goers will not suffer by the change. Of course, there is reason in all matters. If the generous support of the amusement loving community be awarded him, he will sustain, regardless of expense, the high-toned character of the Opera House, and it rests with the public to have a first class theatre or the contrary. Our whole-souled and generous friend Mr. Harry Overington will be retained as Treasurer, while the efficient, obliging and energetic Mr. Burke will remain in the business department, and Mr. Dougherty will still remain in the position of usher, a position he has so satisfactorily filled under Mr. Hess's management. Dan Bryant, the versatile and accomplished Irish comedian, than whom there are none better on the American stage, opens to-night with Shamus O'Brien. He will draw immense houses. Under the new management we wish the Opera House success.

THEATRE.—William Henderson, Manager. Miss Anna Levering, the beautiful artiste and charming actress, makes her bow to the public to-night, as Queen Marguerite in the great French drama of the Tower of Death.

An Of-fender Caught.

We have heard of men stealing hot stoves before now, but we never heard of one stealing a fender until now. On Friday, a man named Moses Fisher, stole one of those useful articles from the establishment of Messrs. McKee, Allan & Co., in the Ninth ward. Information was made before the Mayor, and officers Cupples and Dressler, set out to arrest the thief. They went to the office of Justice Scriba in Reserve township, having been informed that the culprit resided in that neighborhood. There they learned that he lived in Duquesne borough. Thither they went and inquired of Conrad Fisher, the whereabouts of his relative. No satisfaction was obtained, but further inquiry revealed the fact that the object of their quest was employed in cutting ice at Smoky Island. They went and made search through all the gangs of workmen employed there, and the last man in the last gang was Moses. He was taken before the Mayor and confessed to the transaction. In default of $500 bail, he was sent to jail to await trial at Court.

Resignation and Appointment.

Some time since Mr. James Scott, of the Mayor's police, tendered his resignation. It was accepted, and Mr. Scott left the force a few days since. He leaves the business of police officer for a much more lucrative position as Assistant Superintendent at the Fort Pitt Works. He was a capital officer, and we are glad, since he would leave the force, that he is bettering himself.

On Saturday morning officer Peter Dressler, long known as an efficient and able police officer, was placed upon the "regular" force to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of officer Scott. Officer Dressler was policeman under Mayor Lowry's administration, and during the present Mayor's term has been doing duty as "special." His appointment to his present position is an excellent one.

Rescued.—On Saturday afternoon a man too drunk to know his name, was driving along on a loaded one horse wagon, near the corner of Water and Wood streets, when a sudden lurch of the wagon threw the boozy chap to the ground, and he fell under the wheels. Officer Wrigley was near and saw the accident. He ran to the spot and hauled the fellow out in time to prevent the wheel from passing over his body. The officer conveyed the driver to the lock-up and took the horse and wagon to Campbell and Aiken's livery stable. Yesterday morning the prisoner gave his name as Henry Frank, paid his fine for drunkenness and went his way.

Grand Army of the Republic.—Post No. 1, District of Allegheny, Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, held their regular meeting on Saturday evening last, at Connelly's Hall. The following gentlemen were elected officers to serve for the ensuing year: Post Commandant, W. B. Cook; Assistant Post Commandant, Samuel Kilgore; Post Adjutant, Lee S. Smith; Post Quartermaster, D. M. Howe; Post Surgeon, Joseph L. Evans; Post Chaplain, John H. Morris. General A. L. Pearson, Major W. B. Morgan and Capt. Lee S. Smith were elected as delegates to the State Convention to be held at Philadelphia on the 16th instant.

Delegates.—At a recent meeting of the Erie Presbytery, held at Meadville, Rev. Dr. Reynolds and S. M. Eaton, and Elders S. S. Spencer and Samuel Geibner were appointed delegates to the Presbyterian Centennial Convention to be held in Pittsburgh in February next. Rev. Mr. Eaton was appointed historian.

Man Shot.—A man named George Bergby was shot through the lungs at Oil City, at a ball on Tuesday morning. The wound will probably prove fatal.

Strong Boy.—A little boy, in Columbia, Pa., drew a ton of coal at a fair raffle, and gave the same to two poor old women.

Another Coat Larceny.

On Saturday morning officer Barry arrested a man named Charles Baker, in the Diamond, on a charge of larceny, preferred by J. W. Cowden. The prosecutor alleges that about two weeks ago the accused took from the chambermaid's rooms on the steamer New York, one overcoat worth seventy dollars, and a pair of buckskin gloves worth five dollars, belonging to deponent. The stolen coat was found by officer Busha, on Saturday, at the store of George Dornberger, at No. 272 Ohio street, Allegheny. It had been sold to a man named Eckhardt for the sum of five dollars. Eckhardt had become frightened and sold the coat to Dornberger for the same sum. The gloves were found by the same officer in the barber shop under the German National Bank, on the corner of Sixth and Wood streets. The prisoner had a hearing on Saturday, and was committed in default of bail for a further hearing. It strikes us that a couple more arrests might be made in the same case.

Lectures.

REV. ALEX. CLARK, of the First Methodist Church, Fifth street, will lecture at his church to-morrow evening—the proceeds to be appropriated to a benevolent object. The subject is, "Who art thou? or Christian Individuality."

THE first lecture of the course under the auspices of Mechanics Lyceum of Birmingham, will be delivered in the M. E. Church of that borough, this evening, by Miss Martha Glass. Subject—"Public Opinion."

Another Mania Case.—On Friday morning a man, whose name is unknown, was apprehended in Allegheny by the police officers. He had been wandering about the lower part of the First ward of this city, with his boots in his hands, and urging every one with whom he met to pour boiling water into them to kill animals which he imagined had taken refuge there. He was placed in one of the cells of the lock-up, and medical attendance immediately procured. He continued to rave throughout the day and evening, but on Saturday he was better, and was committed to jail by His Honor on a charge of drunkenness. He is supposed to come from Cleveland.

Another Row.—On Friday night a fight occurred at the saloon of Henry Schetz, at No. 21 Market street. Schetz sent to the Mayor's office for officers, and officers Busha, Cupples and Dressler repaired to the spot. A man named Wilbert had been very badly beaten by some person whose name was unknown, but Wilbert had disappeared and Schetz refused to make any information. Therefore, no arrest was made, as the fight had ceased and all was orderly when the officers reached the spot.

Decision in Favor of Pittsburgh Claimants.—The important law suit involving the Maguire Farm is at last decided, the Supreme Court having last week decreed in favor of the Pittsburgh claimants, N. P. Sawyer and others. The value of the property is estimated at over one million dollars. The town of Tidioute is situated on the Maguire Farm, upon which there are already some nineteen oil wells sunk.

Committed for Hearing.—Theodore Parker Lyman, whose trial and acquittal on a charge of larceny of an overcoat, and whose re-arrest on information of Edward Brush who identified the coat worn by Lyman as his own, we have already noticed, had a preliminary hearing before Mayor McCarthy, on Saturday, and was committed to jail for a further hearing this evening.

A Case of Conscience.—Some conscience stricken wretch, who had defrauded the proprietors of the Lake Shore Hotel at Petroleum Centre, a day or two ago, sent them them the amount of the defalcation,—ten cents.

Proposed Post Office.—Application has been made to the Post office Department for the establishment of a post office at the Town Line of Summerhill and Hayfield, six miles from Conneautville.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
SATURDAY, Jan. 5, 1867. }

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 133¾; Eighty-one bonds, 108¼; Five Twenties, old, 107⅝; Five Twenties, '65, 105⅝; Five Twenties, new, 105⅝; Ten-Forties, 99⅛; Seven Thirties, 104¼; Michigan Southern R. R., 82⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 104⅛; Chicago & Rock Island, 103⅛; Erie, Railroad, 67¼; Chicago and North Western R. R., 45½; do preferred, 82½; Western Union Telegraph Company, 46.

An increased activity in the eastern money market has checked the rise in stocks. The market is down throughout save in gold-bearing Governments. Gold is off ¼. Seven-thirties and Railways about ½. The movements in Congress thus far indicate a disposition to leave matters nearly as they are, that is, allowing the Secretary to make occasional sales of gold to repress a rise, and to curtail the currency at the rate of four millions per month.

The home market is very much firmer than we anticipated it would be. The better class of stocks, Bank, Bridge, Gas and Passenger Railway shares are strongly held. The demand this week has exceeded the supply, so prices on the whole are relatively higher than before dividend day. We learn of sales during the week of Birmingham Bridge Co. at 33½; of Birmingham Gas Co. at 30¼; of Columbia Oil Company at 10¾; of Triumph oil at 1,05. 50 bid for Dalzell—none offering.

The money market works heavily yet. The season for renewal of rents is upon us again. The coolness with which landlords add to rentals that are already exorbitant, would be refreshing were not the thermometer already down to zero. Business at a stand still, tradesmen, generally, barely "making the ends meet," the prospect for two years to come, with a glutted market and a constant decline towards gold prices, utterly disheartening, and yet landlords raising the rent from ten to twenty-five per cent! We learned to-day of one case where a twenty-two hundred rental was raised to three thousand. It was already higher than the occupant could afford to pay, but he cannot move, and though it may in the end have been better to do so, he cannot well decline business. We beg the gentlemen who own squares and corner lots to look at it a moment. Is it not better to accept a reasonable rent for your buildings, looking to the welfare of your tenants as well as your own, than by oppression demanding the last cent they can raise? We are all looking forward to close times—to a few years during which it will be necessary to husband every copper, if we would meet our obligations, and maintain our standing. Gold is coming down, Grain is coming down, Pork is down, Governments, Railways, stocks of all descriptions are coming down. We say "that labor must come down," but rents are up, up. One of two things will certainly happen, should landlords insist upon present demands—mark it—either trade will be driven from the city at once, or those who do rent hoping to pay will be forced to throw up their leases before the expiration of two years. If our opinion is of any value act upon it, if not, don't stop at twenty-five per cent, put on fifty, double it, and see where you will come out.

—The Sheriff of Venango county announces a sale of various oil properties in that region on the 5th of January. Among the corporate companies, whose property is to be knocked off under the hammer, are the Budd Oil Company, Logan Oil Company, Ogden Oil Company, of Philadelphia, Carey Run Oil Company, Collins Oil Company, Linden Oil Company, Susquehanna Oil Company, Green Hill Oil Company, Cleveland and Buffalo Petroleum Company, Leutz Oil Company, Hydrick Oil Company, of New York, Allegheny River Coal Oil Company, McCrea Petroleum Company, Minerva Petroleum Company, of New York, East Sandy and Oil Creek Petroleum Company, Beemagin Farm Oil Company, Dick Run and Sugar Creek Company, National Oil Company, of Venango, President Petroleum Company, Laytoma and Sage Run Petroleum Company. The oil regions of Venango county have proved a perfect maelstrom for Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York capital, swallowing it up by millions.

—The Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal, says: "A notice posted on the door of the Central City Bank of this city, this morning, announced the closing of that institution. It is a State Bank, and became involved to the amount of $190,000 with contractors in the manufacture of guns for the government during the war, which has resulted in this failure. We learn that the deposits in the bank amount to about $80,000, which the officers state will be paid. The management of the bank had the confidence of the community generally, and some of our business men had considerable deposits with it."

—The Washington correspondents of most of the Northern papers assert that in a late conversation Secretary McCulloch expressed his confident belief that the action of Congress upon the question of the finances would be of a conservative and prudent character, and that everything tending toward unnecessary expansion would be avoided.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
SATURDAY, January 5, 1867. }

The general markets have been dull and neglected thus far during the year 1867, and what is worse still, the indications at present, are not favorable for any immediate improvement. The policy of the business public seems to be to reduce stocks as rapidly as possible in anticipation of replacing at a much lower scale of values, but this is very difficult to accomplish, as there are but very few buyers, and those few are buying very sparingly—doing what is familiarly termed "a hand-to-mouth business."

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged at $2,60 for No. 1 Spring; $2,65 for No. 1 Extra, and $2,85 to $2,90 for Winter. Oats continue dull; sale of 135 sacks, on track, at 50—small sales at 53. Corn is very dull, and the supply is accumulating; we quote at 72 to 75, on track, at 85, in store. Barley is dull, and No. 1 Spring is quoted at 85 to 90c. Rye is selling at $1,20 for Western, and $1,25 for Ohio and Penna.

FLOUR—Is firm and moderately active, but prices are without quotable change. We quote at $12,25 to $12,50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $13 to $14 for Winter Wheat, and $15 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is selling at $8 to $8¼. Buckwheat Flour is dull at $4 to $4½ per cwt.

LIVE STOCK—Hogs are in good supply at the Central Yards, and prices have declined from ¼ to ⅝ within the past two days, and we now quote at $5,75 to $6,12½ for fair to prime heavy averages. Cattle in demand and firm but unchanged. One drove of prime fat steers sold at about 8½ gross; medium to good grades of cattle may be quoted at 6½ to 7½, and extra at 8.

HAY—Continues to come in pretty freely, and with a supply in excess of the demand, the market is dull, and prices are unsettled, sales being reported on track all the way from $22 to $28. It is generally conceded, however, that prime baled will not command more than $25 to $26.

MILL FEED—Is quiet but steady with a moderate jobbing demand. We can report small sales at $1,90 to $2 for Middlings; $1,10 to $1,15 for Shorts; $1,40 to $1,50 for Seconds; and $2,20 to 2,25 for Oilmeal.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in steady demand at $2,80, and there is little or none in this market except what is in the hands of crushers. There is not enough doing in Clover or Timothy to establish quotations.

APPLES—Steady, with a demand fully equal to the supply, and regular sales in store at $3 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES—Continue surprisingly dull, there being apprently, little or no demand, except in a retail way. We continue to quote at 90 for Peach Blows, in store.

BUTTER—Is coming in very freely, and the market is dull and over-supplied, though as yet, prime Roll still commands 30 to 32.

EGGS—Very dull, and it is something unusual to see this market so completely glutted at this season of the year. Fresh packed held at 30—could be had doubtless at 28 to 29.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }

CRUDE—There was some little inquiry for Crude to-day, but the market cannot by any means be called active, and there is still plenty of room for improvement so far as regards demand and prices. We can report a sale of 700 bbls, in bulk, on the spot, at 8½ and 300 bbls, (good gravity) packages included, at 14, less the usual commission of one per cent. There are some few offers to sell for March and April delivery, at 9c, but there are apparently no buyers at this figure, and no sellers at anything below it—that we can hear of. At Oil City, as here, the market is dull, some few parties buying on speculation at $2,20 to $2,25. The eastern markets are quiet and unchanged.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was a little more active to-day than usual, and while there is apparently a little better feeling in regard to the future, prices are no better, and the demand is limited, both for present and future delivery. We can report two sales of one thousand barrels each, for May delivery in Philadelphia, at 32, and we are cognizant of an offer for 500 bbls for each month during the year, commencing at 29 for this month, and advancing a half cent per gallon every month. For immediate delivery, quotations may be given at 21 to 21½, on the cars here, and 27 to 27½, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil is dull but unchanged; standard brands may be quoted at 43 to 44c for twenty-five and fifty barrel lots.

ARRIVALS—But one arrival reported to-day, seven hundred barrels for Capt. James Wilkins. The arrivals during the week reach in the aggregate about 1300 barrels.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, January 5.—Dry goods prospect is hopeful for a good spring demand. There is no anxiety to press goods. Prints are more active. Spring styles of delaines are expected to open lower. Woolens are generally unchanged.

The market is moderately active, and prices are firm at our quotations. There is a fair number of good shipping steers coming in, and a moderate business is being transacted in this class of stock. Common and inferior grades are in excess of the demand, and for such there is no change to note in prices.

New Orleans Market.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather was warm and soft on Saturday, with a drizzling rain in the afternoon, but on Saturday night it become quite stormy and there was quite a snow storm. Yesterday it was cloudy and cold, and the indications for an early resumption of navigation were hardly so favorable as on Saturday.

There was more activity manifested at the levee on Saturday than usual, two or three boats, apparently, getting considerable freight, and should the weather continue soft, and the river swell a little, it is possible that there may be several departures within the next few days, as we believe the Ohio river, although pretty well filled with floating ice, is not closed.

Among others, the Glendale, Captain Hare, and the Kate Putnam, Capt. Lightner, are filling up steadily for St. Louis, and the Leonidas and Kate Robinson, for New Orleans. The last named boats have their cargoes almost completed, and will be ready to leave as soon as the river swells a little. The Maggie Hays, Capt. Hendrickson, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville on the opening of navigation.

The Bellevernon is laid up at Cincinnati, as is also the Glasgow, some fourteen miles above Marietta. The Sherman, Friendship and towboat Lioness, are laid up at Steubenville. The two first named boats are en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh.

The New Orleans Crescent says of Montague, pilot of the Fashion: He remained at his post until after she struck the shore, and he was compelled by the smoke to leave the pilot-house. He then walked toward the stern of the boat and asked Mr. Hastings, who was on the larboard guard, what he should do, and was answered to jump overboard. He coolly replied that he did not know how to swim. The last Mr. Hastings saw of him he was standing near the stern, and the flames fast approaching him.

The steamer Eclipse, Capt. Porter, running between Savannah and Augusta, Georgia, exploded a boiler on her down trip from Augusta, twenty-four miles from Savannah, on the the 28th ult. Nothing has been heard from the crew, who are supposed to have been killed. The steamer was a total wreck, and sunk in the middle of the river.

The Evansville Journal, of Thursday, says: Huston & Co., have sold their wharf-boat to F. H. Ehrman & Co., for $3500. Captain Huston, we are informed, will continue in charge of the boat. The woods up Green River are daily ringing with the shots of steamboatmen whose boats are laid up in that stream, and they are said to be having a vast deal of fun and excitement. Go it boys.

Says the St. Louis Democrat, of Thursday: The notice has become very general that the towboat and barge system of river transportion is going to win out this way. The following exhibit certainly attests the fact that at least ten St. Louis and New Orleans freight and passenger packets were locked out by the operations of the Mississippi Valley Transportation company, during the eight months they have run their big machine. We have the figures, and they are as follows: From the first of May, 1866, to the close of navigation, towed to New Orleans, 56,142 tons of grain, breadstuffs, produce, &c; 24,600 tons of ice, and 30,000 tons besides, towed in boats other than their own. Total number of tons, 110,312. During a part of the time the company was short of barges, and one of their towboats was lost. They have now four towboats and a sufficient number of barges. The company claim that the above is the capability of two of their tugs, working full time. But we must not forget to add that these towboats and barges brought, on their return trips northward, during the eight months stated, an aggregate of about 12,000 tons of freight, such as salt, gunnybags, turpentine and rosin, to St. Louis and other points. Verily, it is clear that the barge system does not encourage the building of gorgeous steamers for the business of the western rivers, nor appreciate the value of these already constructed.

Says the Louisville Courier of Thursday: The other day a statement appeared in some of the papers that the Wild Wagoner, a fast boat, had made the run from Memphis to Cairo in "less than 19 hours running time." The best actual run ever made from Memphis to Cairo was made by the old Louisville steamer Peytona, Capt. Shallcross. That was in 1847, and the time out, from wharf boat to wharf boat, including all delays for wooding, passengers, coaling, or running slow, was seventeen hours and forty-three minutes—the best time ever made by any steamer on the Western waters. The Eclipse and A. L. Shotwell on their famous run to Louisville were each just inside eighteen hours, and other boats have made fabulous runs, fast on paper but timed by very slow watches.

The Nashville Gazette of Thursday says the steamer Talisman, which arrived there on Saturday evening last from Louisville, was yesterday sold to Capts. Wm. Strong and W. R. Bell, of that city, for the sum of $12,000. The Talisman is now in port, and is to be placed in the regular packet trade between Cairo and Nashville.

CAIRO, ILL., January 2.—EDS. COM.: The steamers Tennessee and Cumberland will be sold next Saturday by decree of the court. They are in good repair, but will sell low. There original cost was ninety thousand dollars.

River Telegrams.

CAIRO, January 5.—A heavy wind storm prevailed here last night. The weather is clear to-day; thermometer 34. The river fell one foot. The ice in the Ohio is light; in the Mississippi it is very light, indicating a gorge above. Arrived—Robert Burns, Memphis; Cincinnati, 9 p. m.; Alice Dean, Orleans, Cairo 9 p. m.; Nashville, Nashville; to return at 7 this p. m. Departed—Robert Burns, 10 a. m.; Kilgour, Orleans, 1 p. m.; Quickstep, Evansville, 8 p. m. The Burns has a large lot of cotton; the Dean has 257 bales of cotton. She is laid up for the present.

NASHVILLE, January 5.—There are reports of an ice gorge in the Ohio at the head of the Island above Smithland, and the Quickstep is laid up at Mound City.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 6.—The following steamers are in port: Glasgow, Agnes, Ruth, Belle, Memphis, Mohawk, Hero, Sub-marine No. 13, Continental, Lady Gay, W. B. Dante, Tennessee, Cumberland, Eva Clair, Clairmont, Jas. H. Trover, Big Horn, Nick Longworth, Submarine Luminary, Graham, Alps, Grand Lake, Lake Erie, Robt. Burns, Ike Hammott, Alice Dean, Platt Valley, Nevada, Forsythe, Mollie Able, Marble City, Bell, St. Louis, Ida, Fulton, Yankee, Mississippi.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—Weather clear and cool. Arrivals—P. W. Strader and Virginia, from Louisville, and Amazon, from Cincinnati.

GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.
